02 THE OPPORTUNITY

A critical moment to address Australia's housing crisis

Australia faces an unprecedented housing challenge, with over 1 million dwellings urgently needed to meet current demand.

Migration, population growth, and long-term underinvestment have created a chronic shortage of affordable rental housing. The Federal Government's initiatives, including the Housing Australia Future Fund Facility (HAFFF), provide significant opportunities for public-private collaboration. These initiatives reframe social and affordable housing as a stable, low-risk social infrastructure asset class.

Why invest now?

Leverage government incentives for large-scale housing projects

Access low-risk, high-impact investment opportunities in community housing

Play a critical role in solving one of Australia's most pressing challenges

Achieve Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) outcomes for investors
